Title of the Practice

Fees Waiver for needy students

Objectives of the Practice

To help needy and economically weak students to complete their education. Many students faced financial crunch due to financial background and they leave their education in midterm to supplement family income.

The Context

Our students are from weak financial background and have to work in day time to supplement the income of their family as well as finance their own education. Therefore, they faced difficulty in paying their fees and leave education in mid due to financial issues. This academic year the situation became worse due to the corona pandemic. Therefore, our college management informed the staff to identify such students and help them by waiving off their fees. College staff identified 2 students who were cancer patient and finding it difficult to pay their fees.

The Practice

The objective of our institution is “To make the higher education accessible to needy and resourceless students so that they are able to face challenges of their life with positive spirit.” So the Main aim is to improve the education facilities to the weakest strata of society and making education available to this segment of the society. Our effort is to help such students to complete their education with this best practice.

Our Principal Madam paid the college fees of those students who were studying in B.M.S. class so that they can complete their education.

Evidence of Success

With the above financial assistance 2 students of our college from B.M.S. could complete their education without skipping their academic year. Our institution set a target of helping such students who have genuine financial problems but have eagerness to complete their education.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required

Being a Covid – 19 pandemic situation it was very difficult to contact the students as many of families left the city. We tried our level best to contact such students to know their problems, why they did not take admission in college? After lot of struggle we could contact the students and knew their problems and helped them.

7. Notes

It's been always the practice of our institution to help the needy students so that nobody should be deprived of education only because of finance. Even teacher help the students to pay their college fees and also help them by arranging books for them.

Empowering Girl Students

Objectives of the Practice

Being a night college, we face problems of getting admission of girl students in large number. The motto of our college is to make learning environment safe and cordial for girls by following women friendly environment and learning process.

The Context

Whatever number of girls enrolled in our college, lacked self esteem and self confidence. They are shy and prefer to remain in their canopy. We want to enhance their overall personality and also want to make confident human being to face life challenges. So our institution decided to conduct special sessions for girls to empower them.

The Practice

Women and empowerment is a burning issue that our nation is facing. Education system has taken several steps not to improve education accessibility to girl child but also has ensured with the policy measures to build up their personality. In this regard our institution has also taken care to groom personality of our girl students by arranging session and seminar specifically addressing their needs.

Evidence of Success

This academic year we arranged full length workshop for girl students to polish their personality and learn inter and intra-personal skills. The workshop was for six days and covered span of topics to mould their overall personality traits.

Nearly 40 girl students successfully completed this workshop. After analyzing their feedback, we came to know that they really learnt a many thing from this workshop. The topic covered in this would be useful to them in their life.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required

The real problem that we faced was to convince girls that such this workshop will be really useful to them. Mentoring their presence and motivating them to complete this workshop was daunting task for college teachers. But our staff successfully managed all the hurdles and helped students to complete the workshop. They really learnt a lot from this workshop which was also mentioned in feedback given by them.
